

DEATH

AROUSED SUSPICION OF HER MOTHER

DAYTON WOMAN, WIDOW WITWER, HELD ON SUSPICION.

A HORRIFYING PUZZLING CASE.

FOURTEEN PEOPLE HAVE DIED UNDER ODD CIRCUMSTANCES.

And the Ghastly Details of Their Agonizing End Are Woven With the Life History of This Woman Who Coolly Talks of the Case—Chemist Making an Analysis.

Dayton, Ohio, Oct. 8.—Murder in the first degree was charged against Widow Witwer this afternoon. The charge against the woman was based on the analysis made by the chemist.

Dayton, O., Oct. 8.—Widow Witwer's arrest on suspicion of 14 murders, the last including four husbands, five children, one sister and four members of different families, in which she was employed as housekeeper, is the sadistic here.

The last supposed victim was the sister, Mrs. Anna Pugh, who died a week ago, under mysterious circumstances. An autopsy performed at the request of Mrs. Witwer's mother, who came here from Detroit, is said to have disclosed the presence of arsenic and copper in the stomach.

Following closely upon the death of her first husband, Fred Schwegel, came the death of two children. The second husband died suddenly several years after the wedding and three children of this marriage died in rapid succession. Her last husband, A. J. Witwer, died last April. In each instance death was somewhat sudden and all were strangely alike.

The prisoner is 47 years of age and formerly lived in Middletown, this state. She has two sons in the Philippines and a sister. It is stated in a New York asylum. No conceivable motive for the suspected crimes has been disclosed. Drugs which were found in the house occupied by Mrs. Witwer are in possession of the police and will be examined.

The third husband of Mrs. Witwer was William Stowe, who died at Middletown under symptoms it is stated, of arsenic poisoning. Mr. Stowe's death at that time created a sensation and was the subject of an investigation by the coroner. It was shortly after Mr. Stowe's death that Mrs. Witwer came to Dayton. She shortly afterwards assumed the duties of housekeeper for Charles F. Keller, a widower. Keller died suddenly and the information since gained by the coroner concerning Keller's death is that his ailment was similar to that of a person affected by poison.

She next acted as housekeeper for John A. Wenz, an east end druggist. Wenz died in September, one year ago. The doctors attributed his death to blood poisoning, but now tell the coroner that they were dissatisfied with their diagnosis at the time. Two months before Mr. Wenz's death his four year old son died suddenly. Mrs. Stowe next resided with a Mr. and Mrs. Babler on Best street, Riverdale. These two persons died suddenly and the coroner now says that their sickness was of the nature of arsenic poisoning.

Mrs. Brown, a sister of Mrs. Witwer made a statement in which she said that since the death of her sister, Mrs. Pugh, she could recall that the little son of the accused woman, who died at her house, had suffered untold agony and seemed to be a victim. Mrs. Bausman who resided next door to the Witwers, declares that on the morning of the day that Mr. Witwer was taken violently ill Mrs. Witwer told her that she had a presentiment or suspicion that her husband would be taken sick that day. The youngest son of Witwer by a former marriage now recalls that he took his father's dinner to him and that half an hour afterwards he was taken dead.

TWO HANGED.

Colored Murderers Today Paid the Penalty for Their Crime at Philadelphia—Third Convicted.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Chas. Perry and Henry Ivory, negroes, were hanged in Moyamensing prison at 10:06 1-2 o'clock this morning for complicity in the murder of Prof. Roy Wilson, white, of the University of Pennsylvania, on May 19, 1900.

Amos Stirling, another negro, has also been twice convicted of the same crime and is awaiting sentence of death.

Prof. White was beaten to death with an iron bar upon a lonely street in West Philadelphia. The murderers' motive was robbery. They secured only a few dollars and a cheap watch.

JEWELRY STOLEN.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—The residence of Claude Spreckles, the sugar king, was entered by burglars last evening while the family was at dinner, and $500 worth of jewelry taken.

Carrie in Jail.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, the Kansas saloon smasher, is in jail again. After her lecture in a church here last night, she came up town, followed by 500 people. SIX DEAD.

Eleven Leave Middleboro, Ky., to Join the Chadwell Forces—More Trouble Seems Certain.

Middleboro, Ky., Oct. 8.—Ross Chadwell died Monday and William Morgan died last night. Both were wounded in Sunday's battle at Big Springs Union church. This makes six dead from the bloody affair. Lem Chadwell, Bud Chadwell, Joe Dooley, Henry Lynch and seven others have left Middleboro armed with Winchesters to join the Chadwell forces. More trouble is sure to occur.

EVIDENCE OF GOOD FAITH. Boston, Oct. 8.—It is understood that $35,000 was cabled to Constantinople today to be given the brigands holding Miss Stone, the missionary. Money in small amounts is being received today. The money sent today was forwarded through the state department.

TERRIBLE TANGLE

Given Up and Matter is Turned Over to State Authorities—Blodt's Scheme and Shortage.

Columbus, Oct. 8.—The affairs of the Guarantee, Savings and Loan company of Cleveland, of which J. Blodt, who committed suicide, was president, are in a terrible tangle. Secretary Livingston and Attorney Taft, who tried to straighten matters out, have given it up and turned the matter over to the state authorities. Blodt was $50,000 short in his accounts and made loans in vacant lots aggregating $200,000. He paid dues on these lots supposed to have houses on them to cover the fraud.

FITZ IS AN AMERICAN.

New York, Oct. 8.—Robert Fitzsimmons, pugilist and actor who lives at Bensonhurst, applied yesterday in Brooklyn for final citizenship papers. He will not be entitled to vote at the coming election, but will have that right the second Tuesday in November, 1902. The former fistie champion was born in Australia. He took out his first citizenship papers three years ago in New Orleans, La.

DYSON

AS WITNESS BEFORE SCHLEY COURT TODAY.

SAMPSON DIDN'T APPROVE MR. MACLAY'S STATEMENT.

DIDN'T LIKE TERMS EMPLOYED.

MRS. SAMPSON SAID TODAY HER HUSBAND'S HEALTH IMPROVES.

The President of the Naval Academy Alumni Association Makes an Address to the Public—The Day's Developments in the Celebrated Court of Inquiry.

Washington, Oct. 8.—In the Schley inquiry Lieutenant Dyson said this morning that on the day of the Santiago sea fight, of the Brooklyn seven boilers the two forward were not in use, that the fires under three were banked and three others were dead. He judged from fact that it took from 9:35 to 10:30 to get up steam that the fires were not even primed in spite of the Brooklyn got in the fight steaming fourteen knots.

Mrs. Sampson this morning announced that the general health of Admiral Sampson had undergone a decided improvement and that she expected that in a short time he will be as well as ever. He has no regular local physician and the family physician, Dr. Bayen, of Boston, has not seen the admiral since the latter came to Washington. He takes daily walks with his wife, receives his personal friends at the New Hampshire avenue home, but refuses to approach the subject of his health or the Schley inquiry in any manner.

SCHLEY'S RETIREMENT.

Washington, Oct. 8.—The salary of Admiral Schley, who retires tomorrow, aged 62, will be reduced from $7,500 per year to $5,625. It was expected that he would be kept in active service till the close of the court of inquiry, but no such order has been given by the navy department.

JUMPED

Into River After a Long Chase and Was Then Caught—Wore a $500 Diamond.

Youngstown, O., Oct. 8.—Henry Johnson, colored, was chased over a mile today by two hundred citizens. He shot a dozen times at the pursuing officers and citizens. One shot hit an Italian laborer in the lung and he will die. Johnson then jumped into the river. Here he was caught and landed by Patrolman Smith. He has a $500 diamond on him and says he is from Dayton.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Fire this morning over scores of people from home, destroyed the plant of the McMahon Biscuit and Cracker company, and stables of the Hofman Brewing company. There was no casualties, but the loss will reach a quarter of a million dollars.

INDIANAPOLIS ELECTION.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—The city election passed quietly here with the exception of the arrest of one Gustave Joseph for carrying concealed weapons. He was struck a number of times and for several minutes it looked like a riot. The quarrel started over the right of a neighbor of Joseph to vote. It now looks as if Chas. Bookwalter, the Republican nominee, had a lead in the mayoralty race. This is denied, however, by Democrats.

KING EDWARD'S CONDITION.

London, Oct. 8.—Your correspondent today has it from the highest court authority that the days of King Edward are numbered. "Devotion to his duties as king has changed him from a middle-aged to an old man," said this official, "but he may be spared several years." It has been observed that alternating inclosed are lamps have the peculiar property of causing mahogany furniture to appear to be covered with a bluish white dust.

FOUR

KILLED IN AN UGLY FREIGHT WRECK

ON NEW YORK CENTRAL NEAR UTICA TODAY.

AN ENGINEER'S NARROW ESCAPE

COLLISION BETWEEN FREIGHT AND LIGHT ENGINE.

The Dead are Engineer Shannon of Schenectady—Firemen Smith and Palmerton of Rennselaer, and Wm. Weir, Brakeman, from Albany—Wreckage Covered Four Tracks.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 8.—A head-end collision near here on the New York Central between a freight and light engine killed four people this morning. The dead are: Argyle Smith, fireman, George Palmer ton, fireman, Spencer Shannon, engineer, William Weir, brakeman.

The wreckage was terrible, covering four tracks and delaying traffic for several hours.

Engineer James Hager was injured but not seriously. The wreck was caused by a collision between an east bound freight, 1861 and light engine No. 1615. Engineer Hager was in charge of the light engine, which was crossing from one track to another, when the crash came. Hager's escape was miraculous. He was hurled through the window of the cab of his engine, landed on the ties and dropped into a ditch. The wreckage covered all four tracks and traffic was suspended for some time. It took several hours to recover the bodies of the victims. The bodies of Fireman Palmerton and Brakeman Weir were removed from under the debris. Both were badly scalded. Engineer Shannon was pinned under the boiler head of his engine and considerable excavating was necessary in order to extricate him. Argyle Smith, fireman of the light engine, was found under the boiler.

MR. GREEN'S CONDITION.

Bellows Falls, Vt., Oct. 8.—The condition of Edward H. Green husband of Hatty Green, remains unchanged. The disease is progressing slowly, great prostration at night and a slight improvement during the day being the prominent features of his case.

PROPOSED RECEIVERSHIP.

Akron, O., Oct. 8.—The report sent broadcast that a receiver will be appointed for Akron is up to the present time mere talk. The city is in debt but it is believed by the city council that the matter can be adjusted without resort to a receivership.

WIRELESS

TELEGRAPHY USED IN REPORTING YACHT RACES.

Different System Observed—None Free From Interference—Would be Serious in War Time.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Special interest was taken by the navy department in the use of wireless telegraphy in reporting the recent yacht races. Under direction of Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment an officer was detailed to observe the work of the three systems employed. According to his report, "none of the systems were free from interference." That is when two instruments of different systems were working at the same time, it was impossible to read the messages sent. No trouble was experienced he said when only one of the instruments was working. Experiments in wireless telegraphy in the navy will, in consequence of these observations, now be directed toward the elimination of "interference."

Naval officials point out that "interference" would be a serious matter to a squadron in time of war. It would be possible it is true, to prevent on enemy from communicating with his ships, but the enemy would have the same facility for cutting off communication between American men of war.

TRIAL

Of Gov. Krause for High Treason at Johannesburg Begins Today—Letter Causes Sensation.

London, Oct. 8.—The trial of D. Krause, former governor of Johannesburg, for high treason, began today. The prosecution read a letter written by Dr. Krause to Dr. Leyds, European agent, saying he, Krause, had agreed to a 24 hours' armistice during the occupation of Johannesburg in order that the Boers might have a chance to increase their forces and move gold to Pretoria. The reading of this letter created a great sensation.

POWERS' TRIAL

Proceedings Begin at Georgetown—An Affidavit to Take Judge Cantrell Off the Bench.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 8.—Caleb Powers, who is charged with conspiracy in the assassination of Goebel, was brought into court this morning. For the prosecution there are five well known attorneys including Congressman Hendricks and Colonel Tom C. Campbell. The defense will be looked after by seven lawyers. Judge Cantrell took up the affidavit offered by the defense in an endeavor to compel him to vacate the bench.

Prosecuting Attorney Franklin addressed the court and said he did not think the affidavit sufficient cause for the Judge to vacate. He declared the facts mentioned were merely allegations and would not stand in any court. Attorney Campbell followed, saying it is not necessary for a Judge to give up a case on a mere affidavit. In the course of his address, he said: "Who knows but the assassination of McKinley by Czolgosz was suggested by the assassination of Goebel and no man was hanged for that crime."

HEMP CASE

Now Known That Senate Committee Will Find Heistand's Honor and Integrity Unimpeached.

Washington, Oct. 8.—It is now known that the Senate committee investigating the Hawks-Heistand hemp charges will report soon that the honor and integrity of Colonel Heistand stand unimpeached but his prudence is questioned for undertaking to promote an enterprise in territory under military control.

Former Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen and others mentioned in the charges as having part in the hemp concern will be vindicated in the report of the committee.

W. H. Eckman Dead.

A dispatch from New York says that William H. Eckman, a former newspaper man and magazine editor, aged 60 years is dead of apoplexy. There are many people in Newark who will remember Mr. Eckman. For many years he made Cleveland his home, and for seven years was city clerk of that city, while he still resided in Cleveland. He obtained in 1887 a franchise from the Newark City Council for the establishment in Newark of the Newark Electric Light and Power plant, which plant he successfully managed in its infancy. He then returned to Cleveland, where he was subsequently manager of the Park commission.

HEIR

TO OIL KING'S MILLIONS WEDS TOMORROW.

ELABORATE PREPARATIONS FOR THE CEREMONY.

ALDRICH LAVISH EXPENDITURES

MOST COSTLY WEDDING PRESENTS ARE ARRIVING.

Rockefeller to Wed in a Floral Bower. Had Planned for a Quiet Wedding, but Nearly 600 Are to be Present. Only a Few to Witness Ceremony. Bride's Gown.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 8.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the other members of the Rockefeller family arrived this afternoon from New York for the wedding Wednesday at noon. Accompanying the party besides a regularly appointed press agent, were fifteen private detectives from New York and Chicago agencies.

An order has been received to prepare a sumptuous banquet at one of the local clubs in honor of the bridegroom and his ushers, and there will be an informal luncheon tonight at the Aldrich residence for the Rockefeller family, tendered by Senator and Mrs. Aldrich.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 8.—Preparations are being hurried for the wedding at high noon tomorrow of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., heir to one of the greatest private fortunes, and Miss Abby Greene Aldrich, daughter of Rhode Island's multi-millionaire Senator Nelson W. Aldrich.

The original intention of both families was to surround the ceremony with ultra-exclusiveness. Young Mr. Rockefeller and his father were particularly anxious that none but relatives and close friends should be bidden to the wedding, but with Senator Aldrich the case was different.

He found out that unless he sent out at least 650 invitations there would be trouble—more of it than any man in public life would care to stir up. So the invitations were issued and plans perfected for the entertainment of the guests.

The Aldrich homestead at Warwick Neck, where the ceremony will be performed is the largest and most picturesque estate in Rhode Island. But the quaint old residence soon to be replaced by a million dollar structure, could not accommodate one-quarter of the distinguished company bidden to the wedding.

Realizing this, Senator Aldrich arranged weeks ago with a Providence contractor to connect the old residence with the new boat house by a temporary structure, roomy enough to accommodate the invited guests. Through this structure, ablaze with electric lights and canopied with flowers, young Mr. Rockefeller and his bride will pass to the ball room of the boat house. There the wedding ceremony will be performed under a giant bell of American Beauty roses.

The inlaid floors will be strewn thickly with choice flowers, while the lofty walls and domed ceiling will be banked in brilliant floral bloom.

Music will be a feature of the reception that will follow the ceremony. A full string orchestra concealed behind an immense screen of orchids will render a program specially arranged for the bride. It will contain her favorite melodies—simple ballads of the heart that she has sung and loved through girlhood.

The orchestra will be stationed in the northwest corner of the reception pavilion and will play from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Special steamers leaving Providence at 10 and 11:30 a. m. tomorrow, the day of the wedding, will carry the guests to Warwick Neck. The landing will be made at the Aldrich private wharf, which will be converted by the florist's art into a bower of orange blossoms. Upon this decorative feature alone a small fortune will be lavished.

No fairer setting for the wedding could have been selected than the new Aldrich boat house. The name is a misnomer, for there is no external suggestion of a boat house in this

THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Of a South Side Laborer Tuesday Morning--As Barrel Descended Man Went Skyward--Rescued by Workmen-- Head Cut--Resumed Work.

A laborer employed by Mr. H. D. Woodbridge, who was engaged in removing rubbish from the third floor over the 5 and 10 cent store on the south side of the square, had a narrow escape from serious injury and probably instant death about 8 o'clock this morning. Several improvements have been made in the third floor, and the men were removing the debris.

A pulley was used for this purpose and baskets were let down and pulled back up by a man standing on the ground.

A barrel of lime and cement was hooked on the end of the rope at the third story window and pushed out. The weight of the barrel being much greater than that of the man on the ground he was pulled with the rapidity of lightning up to the pulley above the third-story window, striking his head and cutting a gash in his scalp.

With great presence of mind he held on and was taken in at the window, when he calmly wiped the blood from his wound, walked down stairs and resumed his work.

Had he let go at first the barrel would have fallen on him and crushed him, and it was by the merest chance that he passed the barrel in its decent.

Had he been rendered unconscious when he struck the pulley, and let go, he would have been seriously injured and maybe killed by the fall.

Altogether it was a very lucky escape for him.

The man was seen by an Advocate reporter as he was wiping the blood from his head but he refused to give his name and those working about the place seemed unable to tell the name of the man.

The man who refused to give his name this morning as he didn't want the "notoriety of publication" told a reporter this afternoon that his name is John Vogelmeier.

JANE

BY HARRY PAIN.

"Thanks, awfully," said Miranda.
"It's sweet of you not to mind me getting one just like yours. Some girls are so mean about that. I'll address the envelope here, if I may." She picked up the styligraph that was lying on the table.

"Don't take that," said Margaret, the owner of the styligraph. "There are pen and ink."

"What's the matter with the stylo?
Is there no ink in it?"

"Yes; it's not that."

"Has it gone wrong? Won't it write?"

"It writes all right, but—"

"Very well," said Miranda; "then it will do for me."

She picked up the styligraph and was about to give it the preliminary jerk which every styligraph expects before it will start work. Margaret caught her hand. "Don't do that!
Jane doesn't like it. She starts at once without that."

"What? You call your styligraph
Jane?"

"All styligraphs have a personality."
"I've got a styligraph too. I think I'll call mine Neddy, or some other dovey's name, because he won't go. He never has gone. I've never been able to write one word with him. But then he was cheap."

She began to write. Half way through the milliner's dress she stopped to give a gasp of pure joy. "I never knew anything like this in my life before!" she exclaimed with enthusiasm. "The ink is steady, even black; never too much ink and never too little; no dipping, no scratching, no stopping. This converts writing into a paradise." She finished the address.
"Quick, my dear! Give me a sheet of paper."

Margaret gave her the note paper without enthusiasm, even with something very like an air of reluctance.
Yet the smile of an undecided pride was in her eyes; she was divided between a legitimate satisfaction with the enlogia that Jane had received and a fear that she might suffer in alien hands. "Don't press too hard," she said warningly.

"Press?" cried Miranda, rapidly answering a purely imaginary dinner invitation on the sheet of note paper.
"It doesn't want pressing. It doesn't want anything. You just put it in your hand and the styligraph does the rest.
If I only had this styligraph I should be writing all day. It exactly suits my style of writing too. I don't think I shall ever be able to use an ordinary pen again. Can this be carried safely in your pocket?"

"Quite," said Miranda. "But don't make me brag about Jane. I have known so many people who had styles that seemed to be all right until they began to boast about them. No stylograph can stand that."

"She's a duck and a darling, but I would never praise her if I owed her.
It seems rather hard, doesn't it? My Neddy is the very image of Jane to look at, and cost just the same too.
And yet Neddy's no use at all. Sometimes a stylo will write for one person, and not for another. I suppose you wouldn't care to take Neddy in exchange for Jane and see if you could do anything with him. Of course I should give you something else as well, to make it fair."

"No, I do not think I shall ever part with Jane."

"I shouldn't mind buying her. Just tell me how much, and if I can possibly—"

"Not for worlds."

"Margaret, I don't think I ever asked you for anything before. I know how generous you are, and I hate to take advantage of it. But if you were to give me Jane there is nothing I wouldn't do for you. After writing with her one feels that one cannot live without her."

"Yes," said Margaret, "that's what I feel myself. I'd give you almost anything I have, but not Jane. You can't think what a difference she has made in my life. At one time I was always in trouble about letter writing. Now it's a positive joy to write letters. No,
I love you dearly, but I can't give you
Jane."

Subject. Sighed and changed the matter. While they chatted her hand stole to her pocket. Yes, she had brought Neddy with her. She always carried him, trying him at intervals to see if he had changed his mind. How simple it would be to change Neddy for Jane if only Margaret were not looking. Presently the chance came. A motor of curious construction passed the window, and Margaret looked out at it for a minute. When she looked back into the room, Miranda was blushing slightly. Jane was in her pocket and Neddy was on the table.

Extract from a subsequent letter from Margaret to an intimate friend.

"I have seen very little of Miranda lately, and I must own that I am a good deal disappointed in her. She has copied a dress of mine absolutely.
She was clever enough to ask for permission. But that I could have forgiven. I cannot forgive her for having stolen Jane and left her own worthless styligraph in her place. I fear she is without any principles or sense of honor."—Black and White.

To Loosen the Putty.

Not all may know that a hot iron poker, if nothing better—run around window glass will loosen the putty, when it may be easily scraped and the broken pane removed. The new pane may be inserted, putty neatly and carefully laid on, and the work is done.
This may be convenient to know when one becomes the family "handy man," or one's own, as is sometimes the case.

which was received and filed.

On motion the matter of revising the rules and regulations of the Board for publication in the next financial report was referred to the committee on said report.

Superintendent Townsend suggested the death of ex-Superintendent J.
C. Hartzler, and the propriety of closing the schools on Tuesday afternoon during the funeral obsequies of the deceased.

On motion the Board unanimously adopted the following resolution.

Resolved, That while it is appalled unto all men once to die, yet death is at all times an unwelcome visitor, and especially so when it removes from our midst one whose life has been of great value to the community in which he lived.

That the members of the Board of Education of Newark, Ohio, therefore deeply regret the sudden death of Dr.
J. C. Hartzler, and extend to his beloved family their sympathy in their hour of bereavement.

That in view of the long and useful career of the deceased as an educator in this city and county, and his activity and usefulness in the cause of education to the time of his death, by his sudden departure hence, the cause of education has lost a valuable and faithful servant, and this city a highly esteemed man and citizen, a true friend and faithful husband and father whose exemplary conduct in all the relations of life is worthy of imitation.

That his connection with the public schools of Newark as superintendent for nearly a quarter of a century, the energy and enthusiasm he brought to his work, and above all his uniform af-fectability and probity of character, has gained for him among the people of Newark an enviable distinction that may be emulated by the youth of our schools.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the public schools of Newark be closed during the funeral obsequies on Tuesday afternoon, and that the flags on the school buildings be placed at half mast during said day.

Resolved, Further that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the proceedings of this Board, and a copy thereof sent to the newspapers of the city for publication and to the family of the deceased, by the clerk of the Board.

AMUSEMENTS.

Willis Granger is the Star of "A Secret Warrant," which is to be presented here Thursday night, Oct. 10, at the Auditorium. M. W. Hanley & Son, who direct the tour, also manage Robert B. Mantell and "A Runaway Match." Mr. Granger's managers have had the tact to engage a most excellent company for the support of their star. The scenery and costumes are also said to be fine. The company is mentioned by many of our exchanges as being one that cannot give other than the greatest satisfaction to almost every class of theatre-goers, the words "strictly first-class," "crowded house," "a fine performance," and packed to the very doors," were read by the writer in most every paper that came to his view. "A Secret Warrant" is from the pen of the author, W. A. Tremayne, who is also responsible for numerous other box office attractions in the shape of good plays for the people.

TOT CAUSES NIGHT ALARM.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with Croup," writes Mrs. J. G. Balder, of Crittenden, Ky. "It seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve."

Berolina Very Sick.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 8.—It was announced at a meeting of the Kentucky Trotting association directors that Berolina was too sick to meet The Abbot in the proposed $30,000 race Wednesday. He has congestion of the lungs. The directors then attempted to have Crescens substituted and offered $5,000. Geers was willing, but Ketcham declined on the ground that Crescens had all the work ahead of him that he could undertake. Geers for Scannell then consented to have The Abbot go against the world's record Wednesday.

Was Over Weight.

Louisville, Oct. 8.—Steve Crosby of Louisville knocked out Nat Wilson of Mount Sterling, Ky., in the second round of a 20-round contest at Music hall. The fight was Crosby's all the way and he put Wilson out when he got ready. Crosby weighed in at 133 pounds and Wilson at 140, Wilson losing his forfeit for over weight. The referee was Marvin Hart.

Bank Cashier Arrested.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 8.—Richard C. Davis, former bank cashier at Washington, Ind., was arrested at his home and brought to Evansville for arraignment on the charge of embezzlement. His attorneys accompanied him and will arrange a bond. The arrest was a surprise, as it was believed the settlement with the bank had averted such action. He was held in $25,000 for the alleged embezzlement of $10,000. He gave bond.

Dined With the President.

Washington, Oct. 8.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained at dinner Henry C. Payne, member of the National Republican committee from Wisconsin, and Mrs. Payne, and Mr. A. J. Cassett, president of the Pennsylvania railroad. Mr. Payne is an earnest advocate of reduction of representation in congress from the south, and it is believed this formed a feature of his talk with the president.

Famous Scout's Last Trail.

Denver, Oct. 8.—Tom Horn, famous throughout the west as a detective and government scout, is at St. Luke's hospital and is reported to be at the point of death, the result of an assault during a row in a saloon in which two of three well known local prizefighters are said to have been involved. No arrests have as yet been made.

STONE RANSOM

Brigands Extend the Time for Payment One Month—Fund in Boston is Growing.

London, Oct. 8.—It is reported from Sofia that United States Consul Dickenson and an envoy of the missionary society arrived there Saturday, intending to follow up Miss Stone (the abducted missionary) and to deposit a portion of the ransom. The brigands have extended the time for payment one month.

Boston, Oct. 8.—Nearly half the money needed to ransom Miss Ellen M. Stone, the missionary, from the Bulgarian brigands, has been placed in the hands of Messrs. Kidder, Peabody & Company. The exact figures were $15,543 cash and $7,500 in pledges. Of this amount the firm sent $3,000 to the state department to be forwarded to its consular agents at the place where it can be used most expeditiously. Members of the firm, when informed of the cablegram from London to the effect that Vienna advices indicated that there would be a month's extension of time in which to pay the ransom, said that the forwarding would not be delayed in the least.

Appeal to Roosevelt.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 8.—Communications received in this city indicate that Boer sympathizers in this country are preparing to appeal to President Roosevelt to stop the sending of supplies from the United States to the British in South Africa. The endless chain plan has been started by the American Transvaal league of Chicago, and sympathizers in Kalamazoo have received bundles of 10 private postcards addressed to President Roosevelt, with instructions to sign them and get friends to sign the cards and mail to the president. The cards read: "Please stop the shipment of horses and mules from New Orleans to Cape Town if possible. Please make England fight fairly in South Africa."

Czolgosz in Seclusion.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 8.—State Superintendent of Prisons Collins has given orders that Czolgosz, the murderer of President McKinley, must not be the subject of notoriety while in Auburn prison awaiting electrocution. He must not be seen and visitors must not be permitted to enter any part of the prison where knowledge might be gained of his location. The warden of the prison has been instructed to inform the guards and other employees of the prison that the divulging of any information concerning him or his doings will be considered a grave breach of discipline and will be dealt with accordingly.

Fusion in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—Chairman William T. Cressy of the Democratic state committee issued a call for a meeting of the committee in this city next Friday to consider a proposition to effect a fusion on a state ticket with the Union party against the regular Republican ticket. Representative Andrew J. Palm of Crawford, Democratic nominee for state treasurer, will withdraw, and it is expected that Representative Elisha J. Coray, Jr., of Luzerne, will take his place. Mr. Coray is a Republican and is the nominee of the Union party.

General Strike Threatened.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—A general strike of the linemen employed by the Bell Telephone company and its numerous allied systems throughout the country is threatened as a result of the Chicago Telephone company's refusal to grant the striking linemen's demands for an increase in the wage scale. The Chicago company is declared by the strikers to be practically the same as the Bell company. If the general strike shall be called more than 12,000 linemen of the Bell company and allied concerns will be involved.

Fired to Shield a Crime.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 8.—The large barn on the farm of Joseph Luger, near here, was destroyed by fire, involving a loss of $5,000. While the flames were burning their brightest a man was seen in a reclining position inside the barn. His charred body was found in the ruins after the fire had been extinguished. No clue to his identity. That the fire was of incendiary origin is not doubted, and it is thought the barn may have been fired to cover up a crime.

Receiver For a City.

Akron, O., Oct. 8.—This city may enjoy the unique experience of being placed in the hands of a receiver within the next few days, whose duty will be to unravel a municipal financial tangle which arises out of an ancient tax levy. Hon. H. C. Sanford requested City Solicitor Gate to bring injunction proceedings against the city to stop the sale, next Saturday, of $168,000 in bonds. These were to be used to care for the accumulation of accounts for city supplies and work on new fire stations. A temporary restraining order was granted and a hearing will be given later in the week. For months at a time policemen, firemen and other municipal employees have gone without pay, and the financial condition of the city has grown worse.

Ohio Republicans Confer.

Cleveland, Oct. 8.—Senator Hanna, Congressman Dick, United States Marshal Chandler, Colonel Myron T. Herrick and W. R. Hopkins were in conference at Senator Hanna's office on matters relative to the Ohio campaign. Senator Hanna's time is at the disposal of the state committee. He has received 56 invitations to speak, and will be assigned by the committee. Senator Hanna and Speaker Henderson of the national house of representatives will speak in Cleveland Nov. 2, and Senator Foraker on Oct. 26.

Echo of Kidnaping Case.

Omaha, Oct. 8.—An echo of the Cutahy kidnaping case was heard with the convening of the fall term of the District court. James Callahan, acquitted on the charge of kidnaping and highway robbery, and now held for perjury, was before the court. Callahan's attorneys announced that they would next Saturday file a plea in bar, at which time the matter will be fully heard. His attorneys insist that Callahan's acquittal on the former charge prevents his being again placed in jeopardy. A charge of false imprisonment is also pending against him. Callahan has never been able to secure bond and has remained in jail since last January.

New Land of Gold.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 8.—A new eldorado is reported near the shores of Goodhope bay. The location is almost directly north of Nome, and to go there from the latter place necessitates a voyage of 300 miles around the coast to Peking strait and through into the Arctic ocean. H. O. Blankenship, one of the discoverers, is in the city on his way to Tennessee. A bond was taken by Captain William N. Armstrong on $10 of Blankenship's claims for the sum of $100,000.

President's Preference.

The Columbus Dispatch insists that Roosevelt should be pronounced "Roz-velt" and not "Ros-velt" for the reason that the president himself uses the former pronunciation. The century dictionary of names gives the latter pronunciation, making the word two syllables with a long "o" and accent on the first syllable, but President Roosevelt ought to have the privilege of pronouncing his own name any way he likes, so in spite of the Century or any other authority, it will have to be called "Roz-velt"—long "o" and accent on the first syllable.

There is No Reason Why People Should Be Troubled With Dandruff and Falling Hair.

The A. R. Bromer Company have clearly stated that under no circumstances would a testimonial be published without the full consent of the party giving it, and their promise will never be infringed upon.

Could the public but read some of the grateful letters received daily from persons cured by Coke Dandruff Cure it would surely convince them as to its merits. The following late reports received at the City Drug Store, Newark, O.:

This morning Roe Emerson filed an affidavit before Mayor Atherton charging Harry Smith with stealing a boy's suit valued at $6.50 from his store on Saturday night.

When arraigned he pleaded not guilty, but when the Mayor intimated that he would bind him over to the grand jury Smith said that he would rather change his plea to guilty and be sentenced by the Mayor than to lie in jail till the grand jury met. Smith, however, was bound over in the sum of $150.

Sunday School Rally Day.

How many schools in Licking county have observed Rally Day? We should like to know in order to report at once to our state paper. If your school has observed the day or expects to do so soon, will you please write us about it? A large number of schools in our state are making use of this day for the starting of a good year's work.

Programs are furnished free by the Ohio Sunday School Association, the only provision being that you must take your school's annual offering for county and state work upon this occasion. Thus you can raise your part for county and state work very easily. Try it. Licking county must not be lagging in good work.

EPISCOPALS

Down to Hard Work at Frisco—Mooted Question Settled—Missionary Endeavor in China.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—The proposed addition to article X of the constitution, prescribing the form of worship, was adopted by the house of deputies of triennial Episcopal convention. As adopted it reads as follows: "But provision may be made by canon for the temporary use of old forms and directories of worship by congregations not in union with this church, who are willing to accept the spiritual oversight of the bishop of the diocese or missionary district."

The vote was as follows: Clerical—Aye, 30 dioceses; nay, 15; divided, 12. Lay—Aye, 35; nay, 14; divided, 5. The house of bishops adopted the amendment to article I, section 13, of the constitution, already approved by the deputies, which, in effect, makes the presiding bishop of the church elective for a term of three years by a majority of the bishops. It was voted, in view of the growing importance of missionary work in China, to divide the district of Shanghai into two departments, to be known as those of Shanghai and Hankow. The bishops considered a number of reports and transacted much routine business.

The daughters of the King elected a council and decided to hold meetings triennially hereafter, preferably in the convention city. The American Sunday school institute elected Bishop Talbot of Central Pa., president, and retained Rev. H. L. Duhring of Philadelphia as secretary-treasurer. Its sessions were addressed by several Sunday school workers.

Death of Amcer of Afghanistan.

London, Oct. 8.—No confirmation has been received at the foreign office of the report of the death of the Amcer of Afghanistan, but the accuracy of the report is not doubted. In view of the existing critical situation in South Africa, the news sent something like a shock through the United Kingdom. Great confidence, however, is expressed on all sides in the ability of the Indian viceroy to deal with the situation. Before Lord Curzon attained his present dignities he had traveled through Afghanistan as the guest of the ameer and had thoroughly mastered the problem of British policy in central Asia. At Simla it is believed that Habib Oullah Khan was regarded by his father as his successor, and had long had a share in the country and will assume the succession peacefully. He is at Cabul.

Lipton to Try Again.

New York, Oct. 8.—Sir Thomas Lipton has decided to keep the Shamrock II in America this winter with a view of making her a fast ship and summer again to compete for the America's Cup. The Shamrock II is to be dismantled at once. Her mast will be taken out so that she may pass under the Brooklyn bridge, and she is to be towed, after being stripped, to New London, Conn., there to be laid up for the winter with the Constitution, which will also occupy a berth at that place. Sir Thomas is confined to his yacht Erin, which is lying off West Twenty-sixth street, in the North river. His right leg, which was hurt while he was boarding the tender Porto Rico a week ago, is giving him considerable pain.

Sec. 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, that parts of Section 2 of said ordinance be so amended and supplemented by adding thereto after the words, "said contracts for the consumption of gas as aforesaid shall be for one year, said year to commence on the 1st day of October," and preceding the words, "but it is stipulated" the following: "excepting, however, that the said N. M. Kinraid, A. W. Evans and S. M. And be it further ordained that a part of said section 2 be amended so as to substitute the word sixteen for the word seventy-five in the following language: "Shall furnish to said city of Newark, without charge therefor, not to exceed seventy-five fires, and that said part of said ordinance be so amended as to read sixteen fires instead of seventy-five."

Sec. 3. Be it further ordained by the City Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, that all that part of Section 5 of said ordinance which reads as follows: "And said pipe lines, mains, meters and other appliances of said gas line system within the corporate limits of said city shall be located to and thereupon become the property of said City of Newark, Ohio, without notice to said parties" be and the same be hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. This amendment and repealing ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and legal publication, and the acceptance thereof by said Kinraid, Evans & Winn is waived.

graceful pagoda like structure that the Rhode Island Senator has reared on the rocky shore of Warwick Neck. Its furnishings are palatial and its treasures of art, collected in all quarters of the world, are worth a king's ransom. The Rev. James G. Vose, a retired Congregational minister and personal friend of the Aldrich family, will perform the ceremony.

Laureston A. Hazard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Hazard, of Providence and three sons of Senator Aldrich, William, Stewart and Richard, will be ushers.

According to present plans only relatives of the bridal couple will witness the ceremony. A possible exception may be made in the case of young Mr. Hazard, who has grown up from babyhood with the Aldrich children, but the other guests will be banqueted in the new reception structure while the ceremony is in progress.

There will be only two bridesmaids, Lucy and Elsie Aldrich, sisters of the bride. Young Mr. Rockefeller will have a sturdy best man at his elbow in the person of Everett Colby, his college classmate and one-time captain of the Brown University football eleven. Mr. Colby is a son of the late Gardner Colby, one of New York's millionaires.

Tiffany, engraver of the invitations; Smart, the New York florist; Mme. Donoyan, the bride's modiste, and Sherry, the caterer for the wedding breakfast, have all been pledged to secrecy as to details. But in every branch of the preparations money has been poured out like water. It will be the first wedding in the bride's immediate family, and her father proposes to make it memorable.

Already presents valued at $150,000 have reached Warwick Neck. They are carefully guarded from prying eyes, but it has been learned that Mrs. Rockefeller's gift is a tiara of diamonds that could not be duplicated for less than $40,000.

The wedding gown was on Saturday delivered at Warwick Neck. Not a detail of its beauty has been voiced for the public ear by either bride or modiste.

Nevertheless it is known to be a model of elegance, made of specially woven American silk, in an American factory, by American workmen. Every bit of costly lace and ribbon that will grace this bridal gown will bear the home trademark.

OCTOBER.

Now we're welcoming October,
Though in sober colors gowned,
For she brings us never pleasures
And enough to go around
Now we get the cooling breezes
That give life a freshest zest,
And the time that's spent in slumber
Yields more satisfying rest.

Now the frost gets on the chestnuts,
And the burn their contents spill
To repay the weary seeker
Who has trusted o'er vale and hill,
And the leaves are being painted
By the fine artistic hand
Of J. Frost, who at this season
Goes cavorting o'er the land.

Now the hunters get excited,
For the day is drawing nigh
When with dogs and guns and game bags
To the country they will hie
Many plans they're now arranging
To bring back a lot of game,
And each one of them is certain He'll catch up with Nimrod's fame.

Now the suet-knaut and the wicker
Get the favor long desired,
And the oyster, how'er eaten,
Is more ardently admired
There's a hankering for sleepers
And the other toothsome things
That were missing in the summer,
But which kind October brings.

Now the dance and play and concert
Fill the evening with delight,
And the autumn girl is proving That she's certainly all right.
There are many other pleasures,
And enough to go around,
And that's why we had October,
Though in sober garb she's gowned.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

President Hadley of Yale, the conspicuous figure in the bi-centennial celebration of that institution, is the typical representative of the new influence in college affairs. He threw himself heart and soul into the preparations for the celebration and raised, with the aid of prominent graduates, $3,000,000 for the new buildings which have been erected in commemoration of the bi-centennial. President Hadley is a man of tireless energy and of great executive ability. He is, besides, one of the world's recognized authorities in the line of political economy. His books have been adopted by the Russian government for use in the government schools. Under his leadership the college has lost none of the prestige which it enjoyed when the venerable Dr. Dwight was president.

Lawson's Maxims.

Here are some business maxims that have guided Mr. Thomas W. Lawson to success:

Be true to your best instincts.
Be thorough.
Never let anything pass you in your business that you do not understand. Trace every effect back to its cause; otherwise you are not fully equipped to carry on business.

Work with enthusiasm and with all your powers. Do only one thing at a time and feel that this is the most important thing in the world while doing it.

In dealing with a man look him straight in the eye. Then you are at your best.

If your enemy strikes at you and hurts, don't let him see that he has hurt you. Ridicule him and strike when your time comes.

Accept defeat philosophically. Apply logic to all business propositions. If they will not stand the test of logic, reject them.

In the stock market don't expect to make money from following the tape. No man ever can do it. Unless you are on the inside don't speculate.

a striking resemblance to her father. She is a great reader and gives promise of inheriting some of her father's talent as a writer. Miss Roosevelt is fond of music and possesses a rather sweet though not powerful voice. She is the president's oldest daughter and made her debut in Washington society at the inauguration ball the 4th of last March.

Social Sir Thomas.

Sir Thomas Lipton's concern for reporters was noticeable when he arrived in New York recently. The first question he asked the reporters who went on the vessel to see him was: "Boys, have you had any dinner? I haven't had anything to eat since 1 o'clock." It was then 6—"and I thought you might be hungry." Sir Thomas said he wanted the reporters to come to him every time they wanted to know anything while he was here. "Don't ask my secretaries anything, because I will not be responsible for what they say. Come to me every time, and then I will stand by what I say."

THREE FORGED CHECKS

Caseed by Newark Shoe Firms—A Smooth Young Man—Officers On His Trail—Stranger Bought Shoes and Dry Goods and Tendered Checks in Payment.

Last Saturday evening about eight o'clock, during the busy time of the merchants around the Square, a young man attired in working clothes, aged about 25 years, went into the store of George A. Ball & Son, on the South Side of the Square, and asked to look at some shoes. He finally selected a pair valued at $3, which he said suited him, and tendered Mr. Ball a check for $17.10 in payment. The check was signed by Miller & Daniels, and made payable to James Dunn, on the Franklin Bank, Newark, O. Mr. Ball supposing that the check was all right, cashed it and gave the fellow the difference in money. The stranger then left the store with the shoes and the money.

On the same evening, the same fellow, presumably, called at the dry goods store of Meyer Bros. and purchased a small bill of goods for which he tendered a check signed by Miller & Daniels, for $17.00, made payable to Dan Maloney and drawn on the Franklin bank. Mr. Meyer accepted the check and gave the man the difference in money.

It appears that the same party afterwards went to the Sample Shoe Store and purchased a pair of shoes worth $2. Here he tendered a check in payment for $15.00. This check was made payable to Dan Maloney, and was also signed by Miller & Daniels, and drawn on the First National bank of Newark.

Mr. Beckman, proprietor of the store, gave him the change $15.00 and he left.

Nothing was thought about the transaction particularly until the checks were turned into the respective banks, the Franklin and the First National, where they were marked "Forged and Fraudulent." The police were notified and are on the track of the criminal and it is altogether likely that he will soon be apprehended and a stop put to his checkbook career.

perately ill. His stepmother had prepared the dinner and sent it to him.

Mrs. Witwer is short, spare of figure and not unprepossessing. She has a cold steel gray eye and looks her age, 47. Under the most vigorous crossfire of Chief of Detectives McEneaney and Coroner Hatcher, she never wined and persisted in her statement that all her relatives and those she had attended in sickness who died had passed away through natural causes.

Mrs. Witwer told in the most unconcerned manner of the death of two children by her first husband, her second, her three children, her third and fourth husbands, George F. Keller, Mr. Wentz and his son, who preceded his father by only a few weeks, and lastly her sister, Mrs. Pugh. To show how devoid of emotion the woman is she held the light when Dr. Briedenbach removed the stomach and kidneys of her dead sister.

Without the least sign of emotion she expressed regret over the demise of her last husband, Mr. Witwer, saying that she had hoped to settle down with him for life. At no time during the answers to the constant fire of questions did she seem the least bit disconcerted.

The authorities are utterly baffled by the coolness and composure of the woman.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Refitting the House.
When the summer wanderings are over, the house mother returns to her home full of eagerness to brighten the dull spots and replace shabbiness with freshness. Often new furniture is needed or a rug seems indispensable or draperies must be renewed, and the absolutely right articles must be selected or the money expended is practically thrown away as far as beauty is concerned.

The charm of a room depends less on the cost of its furnishings than on their careful selection and arrangement. A single piece of furniture, expensive and handsome in itself, may spoil an entire room by its inappropriateness. The most beautiful cabinet of carved Flemish oak would be intolerable in the gold and white daintiness of a Marie Antoinette room, while a gilt cabinet of exquisite workmanship would be cheapened by introduction into an apartment furnished in a massive and solid style.

It is always wiser unless one has a specially cultivated taste, ample means and wide experience in interior decoration to choose furniture of simple design. Ornament is often dangerous, as the tendency is likely to be gaudy and showy unless executed by an artist. A beautiful room is one that is restful, conveniently arranged and interesting, not necessarily one full of expensive chairs and ornate and frequently unnecessary tables.

Pretty White Broom Holder.
Here is combined the useful with the ornamental, and with a little effort the holder can be made quite decorative and pretty enough for my lady's dressing room. A white and gold scheme will please a fastidious person. Cut two circles from stiff cardboard, each five inches in diameter, and also mark out on white duck two circles of the same size as cut from the cardboard. Buttonhole the edges in dull green silk and in the center of one circle sketch the partly conventionalized Cosmo blossom, embroidering the petals in pale gold colored silk. The center is filled in with French knots in shades of rich brown and gold, shading with the darkest colors around the lower edge.

When the embroidery is completed, it should be pressed on the wrong side and mounted on the circles of cardboard by carefully pasting it around the edges with a little strong mucilage. Of course the surplus cloth around the edge of the embroidered circles must be cut away before the mounting is done. The circles are joined at either side with a short strap of ribbon concealed by the full bow and strings of gold colored satin ribbon.—Ledger Monthly.

To Wear in the Kitchen.
Too many housewives neglect to provide themselves with sleeves which can be quickly slipped over the dress sleeves when an emergency calls them to the kitchen. White cambric is the best for these, and the full kind, gathered at the top and bottom over a rubber cord, is generally most satisfactory.

The best apron for occasional use in the kitchen is made of straight lengths of gingham sewed together in a piece wide enough to easily envelop the figure. The bottom and sides are hemmed. Openings are cut at the top for the arms, the two sides being connected over the shoulder by a double bias band. The neck, both back and front, is straight and is gathered into a facing. The distance between the openings for the arms should be determined by the width required at the foot of the skirt. Three or four buttons and buttonholes close the back. The beauty of these aprons is that while they are quickly made they protect the gown at the back as well as at the front and prevent the waist from being spattered while beating eggs, batter, cream and the like.

Photograph Frames.
The latest photograph frame is novel as well as pretty. It is in the form of a tiny screen in two sections. The specimens now on view are but three or four inches high. They are mounted in the regulation screen fashion, and the frames are of mahogany or forest green oak. Only a small portrait can be inserted, but these screen frames are a pleasing contrast to the glittering gilt and silver photo holders that we have always with us.

The Possibilities of North Windows.
Few people appreciate the possibilities of sunless northern windows where "flowers will not bloom." When given "classical" treatment with such beautiful leaved plants as palms, ferns, dragon trees, crotons, ivies and araucarias, which require no direct sunlight, they may be made as attractive as any windows in the house.—Ladies' Home Journal.

BY WHITECAPS

Over Dozen Negroes Shot in Tennessee—Four of Them Will Die—Authorities at Work.

Lewisburg, Tenn., Oct. 8.—Fifteen negroes were wounded, four of them fatally, by whitecaps, near Caney Springs, a few miles from here. Several of the wounded are women, one of whom had her eyes shot out. Numerous thefts committed in the Caney Springs vicinity recently have greatly aroused the community, and the whitecap organization, it is said, is the result. Thirty-five negroes were returning in a body from a festival and were halted at the end of a bridge by men wearing white masks and armed with shotguns and pistols. The name of each negro was demanded, and upon answering several were allowed to pass. Finally one, instead of giving his name, fired on his questioner. The whitecapper fell, and his comrades poured a volley into the negroes, who fled leaving the wounded behind. The whitecappers, after the fusillade, left in buggies, carrying the wounded member with them. The identity of none of them is known, though the authorities are making every effort to apprehend the offenders.

England and Canal Treaty.
London, Oct. 8.—The Washington correspondent of The Daily Chronicle gives the alleged substance of a provisional canal treaty abrogating the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. Commenting editorially upon these advices, The Daily Chronicle says: "Englishmen will be startled to learn that we have abandoned our rights under the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and surrendered every disputed point without any compensation. The new treaty is apparently another instance of Lord Salisbury's placid indifference and Lord Lansdowne's impulsive generosity. It is said that President Roosevelt will recommend its adoption to the senate. Doubtless Great Britain will agree to it. Although it gives us nothing at all, it will have the advantage of getting rid of all our outstanding grievances with the United States."

Woman's Strange Suicide.
Victoria, B. C., Oct. 8.—The steamer Duke of Pife, which sailed from Yokohama on Sept. 21, brings a strange story of the public suicide of a Chinese woman at Foo Chow. She resolved on the deed after the death of her husband and informed the public of her intention. The fatal endeavor to prevent her, and on account of typhoon and floods the suicide was twice postponed. But all efforts failed to divert the woman from her purpose, and, bedecked in her finest clothes, she publicly hanged herself on a platform before which stood several hundred spectators.

How Crendon Lost.
Buffalo, Oct. 8.—Al Weing won the decision over Dan Crendon in the sixth round of what was to have been a 20-round bout at the International Athletic club, Fort Erie. Crendon looked fat and much above his best weight, while Weing appeared to be trained to the minute. Crendon outclassed Weing and from the first to the fifth round knocked him all over the ring. Weing went to his knees several times to avoid punishment, and while in this position Crendon struck him a light blow. Referee McBride declared the blow to be a foul and gave the decision to Weing.

RAILROADS.

FOR WRECKING CARS.
Zanesville, Oct. 8.—Officer E. E. Everett, of the B. & O. railroad, came to the city Monday from Nashport, having in custody three young men of that place who are charged with the wrecking of several freight cars. The affidavits were sworn out charging Edward Lynn, Ernest Weakley and Eugene Francis with the malicious destruction of property to the value of $500, committed September 29. It appears that several freight cars were standing on the siding at Nashport, near a sand pit, and that the prisoners loosened the brakes on the wheels, allowing the cars to run into the sand pit where they were smashed up in bad shape. The men will have a hearing today.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Story of a Pin.
"I was once a little piece of steel in a mine, where I lived with my numerous brothers and sisters. One morning a number of men brought a huge machine to the mine and fastened it so well that our home was blown to pieces. The next thing that I remember was when I was put into a smelting oven, from which I emerged a little piece of unshaped metal. I was then sent to a pin factory, where I was put into a form and came out of the form a small piece of wire, which was shaped into a pin. I felt very proud indeed when my brothers and myself were placed in papers, just like rows of orderly soldiers. We were then packed in a box and shipped to a notion store, where we were unpacked and placed in a glass case. We felt very proud in the case when we first arrived, but when we saw the gigantic, stately batpins and beautiful, proud, glass headed pins and the herculean safety pins all gazing at us with scornful contempt we felt very humble indeed, and, though we tried to assuage the anger of these royal classes of pins, they never would condescend to answer our vain apologies. I was at length taken out of this embarrassing position by the careless hand of the clerk who handed me to a lady who had bought me. She took me to her home and stuck my brothers and myself in a pin cushion. Next morning the housemaid threw me into the ash-barrel, where I now lie unnoticed and uncared for."

The Mistakes of Animals.
It is just as easy to deceive an animal as it is to take in human beings. Thousands of birds leave a field or a garden alone merely because a scarecrow has been stuck up in the middle of it.

Fishes are constantly swallowing hooks that are hidden in make believe flies. A dog that worried a pasteboard cat looked a truly pitiable object when he found out his error.

Show a toy snake to a monkey, and it will probably scream from terror. There is no word strong enough to express the feelings of a dog that fondled an India rubber pup and then discovered its error. When the grampus charges a herringboat painted white, its folly can only be accounted for on the supposition that it believes it to be a white whale.

On the other hand, deer that come to the river bank to drink often do not live to be sorry that they mistook the crocodile floating on the surface for a log of wood.

An Effective Remedy.
A little boy and girl were at opposite ends of a long room, pretending to talk over a "make believe" telephone.

"Is this the doctor?" called the little girl.

"It is, madam; it is," answered the little boy.

"You had better come over at once and see a very sick lady I am nursing," said the little girl.

"Ahem! What is the trouble?" he asked. And she replied, "She swallowed a whole bottle of ink."

"Very serious case," said the little doctor. "What have you done for her?"

"I gave her two sheets of blotting paper," replied the ingenious little girl.

"Was it red or black ink?" inquired the young physician. "Red," replied the nurse.

"Then," replied the doctor, "a plaster of white blotting paper on the soles of her feet will cure her completely."

The Fairies' Tea.
Five little fairies went out to take tea Under the shade of a juniper tree. Each had a cup from an acorn bowl cut And a plate from the rim of a hickory nut. And the table was spread with a cloth all of lace Which the spiders had woven the banquet to grace.

Oh, such good things as they all had to eat— Slices of strawberries with a cream so sweet! Honey the sweetest the wild bees could give And a hummingbird's egg for each one of the five! Then they pledged their host's health in their favorite voice: Which was—well, what was it? Can any one think? Why, the dewdrop that comes from the heart of the rose.

Is the drink of the fairies, as every one knows! —Priscilla Leonard in Primary Education.

Age of Animals.
A dove once lived twenty-five years in a cage.

Fish are such selfish creatures that they ought to live long. They never get hot.

Carp are said to live hundreds of years, and pike are also very hardy old fellows.

There are some insects that live but a few hours. Some live but a day, and all of them are short lived.

The wild beasts do not live long, but elephants are sometimes very old, and then they grow helpless, just like old people and cannot do anything for themselves.

Five Little Sisters.
We are little sisters five That in any climate thrive. Everywhere at home or sea, On the land and on the sea, Whoso'er is human speech There our little voices reach. Every moment, night and morn, We are doing, we are born. Well you know us, little men; Guess our name now if you can, For you never speak a word That one of us is not heard. And our gentle voices meet In each sentence you repeat. A. E. O. and U. Little sister vowels true! —Youth's Companion.

A Proverb.
"Papa, I've got some mending for you to do, please; my roller skates are broken."

"Well, put them away till morning. It's too late to mend anything now."

"Why, papa, you said this morning that it is never too late to mend!"

What's Better Than Home Indorsement?

Mr. E. T. Johnson, Newark, O.
Dear Sir:—My wife suffered for 10 years with Rheumatism and gradually became worse. Tried different doctors and various remedies without relief. One day some two or three years ago a friend told her of your preparation, RHEUMATOL. After using eight small bottles, (it was then put up in 50c size) all rheumatism disappeared. Several doctors prescribed her for this malady but no relief of any consequence until RHEUMATOL was used. This Rheumatol cured Mrs. Brandt of Eczema as well as Rheumatism and never has returned during the entire period of nearly 3 years for which my wife and we are sincerely grateful, and we heartily recommend RHEUMATOL to any one suffering from Rheumatism or Eczema.

MISTREATED.

Neuralgia is a Very Much Mistreated Complaint—It's an All Nerve Trouble Curable by the Great Nerve Medicine Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—It's Newark Evidence That Proves.

The remarkable number of neuralgia cures in Newark by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills has removed all question of doubt as to the efficacy of this medicine in curing neuralgia. Trend of the testimony is to effectual cure, that is the difference from other preparations that only render temporary relief.

Mrs. E. D. Everts of No. 51 West Harrison street, Newark, Ohio, says:

"Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills acted wonderfully well with me. Owing to neuralgia I was all broken down very nervous and having had attacks of nervous sick headaches and excitement bringing them on. It was suggested I get the Nerve Pills at Suggs' City Drug Store and try them. I am more than glad I did so as I feel strong again, nerves steady and plenty of energy. Those sickening, prostrating headaches are a thing of the past, and I am necessarily very much pleased with the Nerve Pills and their work."

FUNERAL

OF DR. J. C. HARTZLER AT TWO O'CLOCK TUESDAY.

Large Attendance From Newark and Other Places—Schools Closed. The Pallbearers.

The funeral of the late Dr. J. C. Hartzler took place from his late home on Sixth street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and was very largely attended.

The gracious house was entirely inadequate to accommodate the many friends and acquaintances who came to pay the last tribute of respect to the deceased.

The services were conducted by Rev. Frank Gramstaff, of the Second Presbyterian church, and a quartet consisting of Mrs. Cass, W. Miller, Mrs. Annis Lawhead, Messrs. Geo. Webber and Paul Maylone, rendered beautiful and appropriate music.

The active pall bearers were A. G. Wyeth, W. E. Miller, W. G. Taafel, William Christian and F. G. Warden, all members or former members of the Board of Education, and Mr. W. T. Evans, of the Second Presbyterian church.

The six honorary pall bearers were selected from the prominent educators of the state who were present. They were Hon. L. D. Bonebrake, of Columbus, state school commissioner; J. A. Shawhan, of Columbus; S. H. Layton, Barnesville; E. E. Richards, of Columbus, formerly principal of the high school; H. H. Huffman, of Lockport, and J. H. Rowland, of Delaware.

The floral offerings were numerous and very beautiful, and testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held by his friends and former co-workers. Schools were dismissed and there were many pupils and teachers present to pay their last tribute to their late superintendent and friend.

OF LYNN B. WILSON AND MISS KENNADAY

At Nine O'clock Tuesday—Friends "Saw Them Off" for the North at the B. & O. Station.

The marriage of Lynn B. Wilson and Miss Grace B. Kennaday was solemnized by Rev. L. S. Boyce at nine o'clock this morning at the residence of the bride's uncle, Hon. Wm. Bell, Jr., on North Fourth street.

On account of the recent death of Miss Kennaday's father, only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. Fred Mosteller was best man and Miss Daisy Hunter bridesmaid. A wedding breakfast was served. There was a large number of valuable presents from the friends of the young couple.

Kemper Scott followed the hack on his wheel peling the conveyance with rice and Attorney Chas. Flory borrowed the dinner song of Bolton & Flannagan and made Rome howl as the bride and groom went from the hack to the train.

Lynn succeeded in restraining himself and kept his hand off his gun.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson kept their destination a secret but it more than likely that they took a Big Four train at Shelby for that Mecca of the newly married, Niagara Falls and the "Pan." Among those present were Mrs. Virginia B. Snyder of Romney, W. Va.; Mrs. Jane B. Hall of Fairmount, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Marion of Columbus; Miss Amy Dodson, Columbus; Miss Mary A.
